FOREWORD

The year's work is completed and its record lies in your hands. May the pleasure and thought of which each page is a reminder receive your approval and commendation.

In this volume of the Year Book, we have tried to show you how the clay, the student, is modelled to the best of the ability of the modeller, the instructor, and to present to the public a reflection of school life in an effort to bring more closely together the student, parent, and teacher.

THE MODELLERS ★

THE CLAY ★

THE MODELLING ★

Have you ever watched a potter take a lump of clay, plump it down on his wheel, and then mold it into a lovely piece of pottery of one kind or another? As the shapeless, unformed mass whirls dizzily around, the potter's hands press and pat, now heavily and now lightly, until an exquisite object emerges as the outcome of the workman's art and skill and thought, a thing of usefulness and of beauty.

It is just possible that we twentieth-century people may not be quite familiar with the pottery industry, but even so, the potter with his clay has a close parallel in the life of each of us. Most of us have thought that the modelling of our physical selves is beyond our power. We have felt that there we may work long and get few results. We know, though, that when with zest we focus attention upon the inner man, when we carefully exert our art and skill to the end that we may produce a worthy life, our reward is sure, and we are more nearly able to complete a life of usefulness and beauty.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

The silent partner in our firm of sculptors is the Board of Education. Their object is to keep the putty pliable and the tools in good repair. They keep us supplied with modern text books.

They see that our building and campus are kept in the beautiful condition that they are, and they shoulder the responsibility of making their assets cover our expenditures. So we, the Class of 1938, take off our hats to them and thank them for doing such a grand job.

SUPERINTENDENT

E. S. Alexander

Just as the sculptor molds his clay figures, the faculty of our High School molds young characters. Under the leadership of Mr. Blodgett and Mr. Alexander, the skilled sculptors (the faculty), shape the foundation of the characters of the pupils during the Freshman year.

MR. ALEXANDER

Chief Modellers

MR. BLODGETT

PRINCIPAL

Carefully and patiently, leadership, self-confidence, and courage to face the future are shaped, pressed, and patted into place to fit the need of each student. Then at the end of the fourth year, the work of the sculptor is done and he turns over to the world characters which, we believe, have beauty and strength in both mind and body.

ENGLISH

Everyone knows how much our success in life depends on good and correct speech. To give us every advantage, a fine English department was provided for us. Miss Cheek has charge of the verbs and nouns while Miss Jones rules in public speaking. For literature we have Misses Sloan and Wood.

It Is the Desire of the Class of 1938 to Take This Opportunity

MATHEMATICS

From simple addition to complex equations, it is all offered in our mathematics course. Miss Harris helps the struggling Freshmen through their trying days of algebra. Mr. Gibson lends a hand and guides them through geometry. At last the students are entrusted to Mr. Love for a try at higher mathematics.

A. M. Gibson Virginia Harris J. J. Love

HISTORY

The average High School boy and girl seems to have trouble remembering his own dates without bothering with history dates, yet history is prominent in our curriculum. Modern history is taught by Miss Oliver and American history and civics by Mr. Wilson. Sociology is taught by Mr. Kinsel.

SCIENCE

A knowledge of science is essential in our intellectual development. For the girls who are more practical minded, Miss Tendick is here to teach sewing and cooking. Anyone who likes bugs and little wiggling worms can take biology from Miss Stoldt. Mr. Robinson, who replaced Mr. Gouza, teaches chemistry and physics.

Marie Quernheim Laurene Pierson Grace E. Davis Mary Keough

COMMERCE

For training in the business field, we have a commercial department second to none. For nimble fingers interested in typing, we have Miss Pierson and Miss Quernheim to see that they hit the right keys. Hand in hand with this are shorthand and bookkeeping taught by Miss Keough. Miss Davis teaches business arithmetic and law.

LANGUAGE

Some people are led to believe that being able to speak a foreign language brings culture and refinement. Whatever it brings, we will all agree that it is another kind of clay to be used in the molding. In our language department we have Miss Adams teaching French; Miss Dayton, German; and Miss Gewe, Latin.

P. E. & MUSIC

Physical fitness is also emphasized in the process of molding. Coach Smith, in addition to developing our various Tiger teams, puts the boys through their gymnastics while Miss Smetana has charge of the girls' physical education. For the finer arts, we have Mr. Weber in charge of both instrumental and vocal work.

LIBRARY & OFFICE

Every subject is broadened by a certain amount of outside reading, reports, or other supplementary work. For this, the student has a well-equipped library at his disposal which is capably managed by Mrs. Goetz and Mrs. Barth. In the office, ready and willing to lend a helping hand at any time, is Miss Voss, secretary to our principal.

Each of us is modelling life every day, just as surely as the potter at his wheel models clay. The results each obtains depend upon the design in his mind and upon the skill and the intensity of his effort. When the potter has finished a piece of work with which he has been occupied, he sets it aside to dry and awaits a convenient time to fire it so that it may permanently retain its shape. Before the clay hardens, however, the potter may experience some question as to the outcome of his effort. He may realize that his work has not been his best, that he has not kept faith with his vision. With one blow of his fist, he may destroy his work and cause the clay to become what it had been before—a shapeless lump awaiting the touch of the master to call forth the usefulness and the beauty within.

THE CLAY

Harken, ye Tigerettes! seniors and sophs, freshmen and juniors, "honors" and "offs":

1948 ? ? ? ? ?

1948—Ten long years have we been away from dear old E. H. S. (Edwardsville High to you) and we would sort of like to find out how our classmates are faring. Would you like to join us on a trip around the world to find out?

We've just arrived on the airliner "Future" and met two perfectly charming hostesses who gave their names as Cleo Norder and Wanda Farrar. They were administrating to the wants of a chap with a very flat-standing personality known as Udell Mason. It seems he's heading for New York to play in Guy Bombardo's orchestra.

We have two days here in New York before we leave on the "Princess Betty" for Europe, so shall we look around a bit? Whoa there! Be careful—did you see those two cabs—they nearly ran over us. What's that, Officer? Oh, you say that was Jimmy Dippold and Joyce Bardelmeier and that they've been trying to beat each other ever since they graduated. By the way, didn't you recognize those feet? Yes, sir, that cop was Archie Merkle. There's a crowd down in front of that store. Shall we investigate? My, oh my, it's Vern Sickbert interviewing people through the courtesy of Scarsons, the new dream-lined store. He just asked Bob Buchanan what he thought of the present administration. Bob, you know, was appointed by President Herbie Simons to a very high position and now Loren Dotray, the president's left hand man, uncovers the startling news that Bob was a former Ku-Ku-Klan member. We've just found out why that young lady is watching that group of men, who apparently are doing nothing. She is Frances Ambrozat, famed for her brilliant mind, and she is trying to figure out a way for the men of the S.T.O.O.G.E.S. (corresponding to our W.P.A.) to lean on their shovels and yet be comfortable. The S.T.O.O.G.E.S, namely, Elsworth Hagemeier, Frank Honchak, Charles Enos, Melvin Trebing, Albert Bishop, and Gerald Howells, obtained their jobs by campaigning for aforesaid President Simons. Every night at 5:15, so they say, one can hear Dorothy Cummins singing over the radio for "Thompson's Tasty Tid-bits." On Broadway, Helen Kriege and Ivan Jennings are quite a hit as a comedy team. Gregor Walter has just bought out Silverblooms.

All aboard, folks, the "Princess Betty" leaves in five minutes. They tell us our Captain is Edward Kreuiter. Head Steward George Dooley was just promoted and now has the honorary title of "Commander-in-chief of the Seasick." Margaret Love, Selma Bartels, Anna Hoffeditz, and Alma Mateer are trying to work their way around the world, for adventure's sake, and are now officiating in the galley. In the way of entertainment we have Marian Barnett and her "Swingsters", the sensational girls' orchestra, featuring Marian and her "hot trombone." As a special attraction they have Irma Bartels and Phyllis Hubach, eccentric dancers.

Our first stop is London. Wilbur Davis is seen driving a large omnibus and gets such a kick out of his fancy horn that he goes about scaring all the women and children. Every night Earl Herrin sits on the banks of the Thames waiting for his ship to come in. He's about convinced that it was lost in a fog. From Wimbledon we hear that George Schneider and Bun Winter are well on the way to winning the Davis cup.

Next stop is Paris! Every day in the Champs Elysees, we find Prof. Bill Luksan

"Odie"
"Oh, so modest."

Gregor Walter
"Greg"
"Why, then, do you walk as if you had swallowed a ramrod?"

Geraldine Watson
"Gerry"
"A girl you should know."

Ruth Weidner
"Rufus"
"With malice toward none and a kind word for all."

Jack West
"Jack"
"When duty grows the law, enjoyment fades away."

Dean Williams
"Fuzzy"
"There's advantage in inches."

Came the spring of his third year—heaven's above; our hero has done it! He's fallen in love!

Herman Winter
"Bunn"
"I never dare be as funny as I can."

Judith Wisnaski
"Judy"
"I can be silent in seven different languages."

Iona Wood
"Kay"
"What shall I do to be forever known and make the age to come my own?"

Ethel Woodward
"Woody"
"Let the world step by; I'll take it easy."

Frank Honchak
"Scalp"
"I'm contented just as I am."

Melvin Trebing
"Melv"
"I was not born for courts or great affairs."

And Charlie the Sportsman at once stepped aside, in favor of Chawles, the Dude who sighed,

Stooges! Do you know that some one once made the remark that we Juniors are "stooges" for the Seniors. We beg to disagree. We are merely biding our time—and for the time being, we are letting the Seniors claim all the spotlight and take all the curtain calls. Meanwhile, in a quiet way, we are holding our own in the various school activities. Each six weeks finds a goodly portion of the honor roll reserved for us. For a detailed account of our activities, look us up at this time next year.

"Today we are men," or should we say "this year?" It affords us great satisfaction to be able to sit back and watch the Freshies suffer as we once did. But don't think that all we have been doing is sitting back. We have steadily been making a name for ourselves in the field of sports. In the society world we are johnny-on-the-spot; our lads and lasses can execute a mean "big apple". If you haven't already noticed, you'll find quite a few of the upperclassmen spend a great deal of their time on the Sophomore floor. We wonder . . . Anyway, we'll tell you more about ourselves later.

We're little, we know it. We're green, we know that too. But here's something we'd like everyone else to know. Although we may be down now, we're not out. We really knew there wasn't any elevator, but we looked so as not to disappoint the Seniors. After we learned to find our way around andnot burst into a room in the midst of a debate thinking we were in an Algebra classroom, we gained our old self-assurance. To boast of our achievements now would be but to bring down upon our fair heads the rants and ravings of our upperclassmen—but wait, you'll be hearing from us yet.

And hung on her locker door, followed her home; (and his friends accused him of writing a poem,

SENIOR SLAMS

Dots and dashes and lots of flashes from border to border and coast to coast.

What robust Senior girl is called "three-year-old" or "kiddie"? It couldn't be Mrs. Cullens' daughter or could it? Who's the boy frequently seen with his car on a Glen Carbon hill? Is there a white house there and is J. Edwin Brown listening? It is rumored one boy is trying to hold on to a Sophomore, Senior, and an out-of-town gal. (Nice work if you can get it, Mindrup.) Talk about some guys trying to have 'em all, another boy has dropped two well-known Sophomore gals for a certain red-headed Freshie. (Roy goes out of the frying pan into the fire!) What up and coming Senior just can't determine the difference between football and basketball on the basketball floor? They call him "Bish" Kaufman. W. P. Jahns seems to be under the false impression that a Terraplane is a car. What romance begun in Junior High is burning low, very low? Hint, hint, she's a blond. How about it, Wilbur?

And next we hear about our two male cheer leaders. They have two more fish on the line. Poor fish! Two young men, (the terrors of Miss Q's typing class) have come to the astounding conclusion that perhaps the Senior girls aren't so bad after all. They have suddenly started slighting the younger girls. (I won't mention any names, but their initials are Jack W. and Harlowe N.)

We are having a hard time with our co-editor—she's stealing our basketball center. Can the Alton interest be waning? By the way, what is the favorite pastime of the Senior girls in Science labs besides making eyes at the new teacher - - - Nothing!

A certain Senior boy has a new hobby. He prefers the office to assemblies. What's the attraction, Ray? We are all wondering about this secret love-affair of D. C's. What other gal belongs to the Bizzanis and still doesn't know what it's all about? Her middle name is Lee. What's this we hear about the Senior gals taking up baby talk again? They greet each other with "Hi, Doll!"

Who is that Senior "E" man that puts a different wave in his hair every day? He also has nice long curly eyelashes and has a pretty green Dodge. I think they call him "Squeeky". One of the outstanding attractions of the year is this new romance that has blossomed between "Weenie" and "Ida". (G. Smith and Idabelle N.) Does everyone know our handsome "woman-hater"? He hails from Glen and they call him "Chid". He used to be a "ladies' man" for two of our trombone players until they started calling him "Sissy". I think all the girls know our Golden Gloves hero—"Slugger" Krumeich. He thinks he can sing, too. Quote—Public Speaking Classes: "Another Dave Simpson is present in our school." At least Penny M. thinks so. It seems that Marvin and Virginia F. are doing quite well in a quiet way. Collinsville High has caught the eye of Harold M.

What Senior boy, working in a drug store and driving a "Chevvie," would like another job? Nobody wants him. (Poor Eddie!) Another boy who has his own car tears down St. Louis Street at noon and runs into his own insurance man. Tsk, tsk, such ignorance! That's why they call him Speedy . . . Oh, yes, we mustn't forget our shrinking violet of an editor. He seems to be dividing his time between Collinsville and Belleville. He's also been caught practicing to become Fred Astaire's rival.

Flash! Flash! with a little thunder. We dedicate this paragraph to Seniors finding interest out of school. What is this about Meyer's Monuments' girl and the

While the potter can easily reshape his clay when he realizes that his work has not been good, in life we cannot wave aside the results of our modelling quite so easily. Each day finds us settling just a little more rigidly into the mold of one habit or another. Some of these habits are excellent; they are the lovely vessels that the potter would not change. Some of these habits are bad; they are the ones that the wise workman will rid himself of before they are so set that they cannot be refashioned. Like clay, habits newly formed, though they be misshapen, can be crumbled with one strong blow, and in their place there can be modelled habits that can serve with their usefulness and can delight with their beauty.

COACHES

Coach Glen Smith, the man with the smile and the tapping feet, coaches the football, basketball, and track teams.

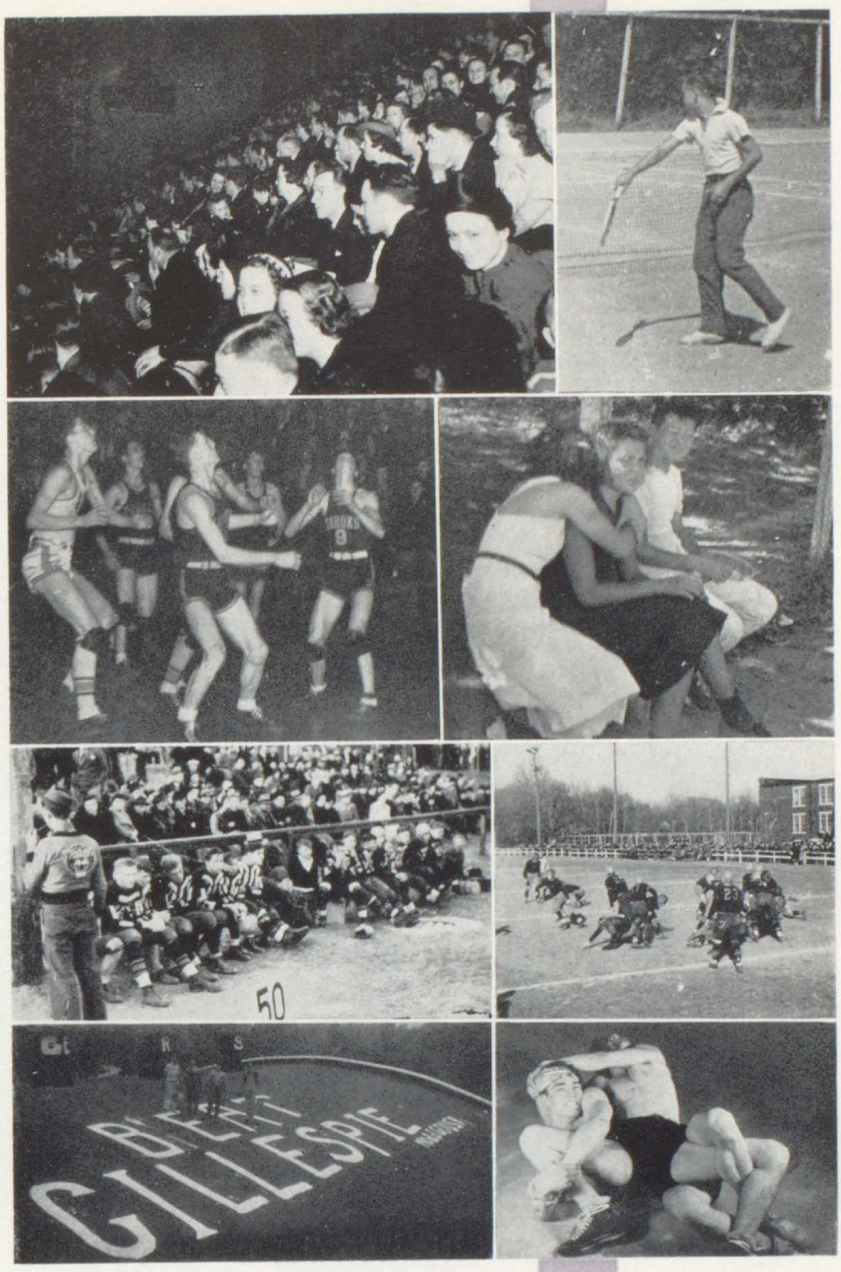
Coach A. M. Gibson tells and shows the boys how to twist each other out of shape for he is the wrestling coach.

Coach Helen Smetana coaches the girls' various activities at E. H. S.

Coach J. J. Love, the little man who swings a wicked racket, is the tennis coach for the Tigers.

Assistant Coach Robinson, taking Mr. Gouza's place in mid year, was able to coach the basketball second team to a string of impressive victories.

Assistant Coach J. J. Gouza left E. H. S. in mid year to take a commercial job. Mr. Gouza was well liked by the boys and thus was able to leave with a fine record to his credit both in coaching and in teaching.



If you're up against a bruiser and you're getting knocked about—
Grin.
If you're feeling pretty groggy, and you're licked beyond a doubt—
Grin.
Don't let him see you're weakening, let him know with every clout,
Though your face is battered to a pulp, your blooming heart is stout;
Just stand upon your pins until the beggar knocks you out—And Grin.

1938 SEASON

Although the Tigers' record does not seem impressive on paper, the team and spectators alike will long remember the hard fought battles of the 1937 gridiron.

To start the season, Gillespie sent to Edwardsville a team determined to avenge the defeat of the previous season, but after playing the game in a steady down pour of rain they were beaten and the Tigers, happy but covered with mud, took showers in their uniforms.

The Tigers next met the East St. Louis Flyers who were destined to be co-champions of the conference, and the Tigers were defeated in a hard fought battle, which was marked by the many injuries to the Tigermen.

Journeying to Alton to play on a wet and slippery field, the Tigers again tasted defeat at the hands of the Alton Red Birds.

With three first string players out, suffering from injuries received in the previous games, the Tigers emerged victorious over Madison.

The Tigers played a story book game with Western Military Academy, the game in which the lead changed hands six times, featured sensational runs by both teams, and not until the last three seconds did the Cadets nose out the hard fighting Tigers.

The Tigers' next opponent was Wood River, and since neither team was able to garner more than six points the game ended in a deadlock.

Journeying to the new Collinsville Bowl the Tigers displayed superior team-work and ball handling ability and held the haughty Kahoks scoreless, scoring six points themselves and thus defeating our bitter rivals.

Again showing their power, the Tigers shoved Belleville to within three feet of their here-to-fore uncrossed goal line, forcing them to take to air to defeat the hard blocking Tigers.

With several regulars on the bench due to injuries the Tigers fought bitterly to stave off defeat but the Happy Warriors of Granite were not to be denied.

So to Captains Moore and Kaufmann and all the boys, our deepest appreciation for your fighting spirit and good sportsmanship.

BASKETBALL

The fans will long remember this season's Tigers for they were all hard-fighting boys.

As we look back over the season, all of us will remember the games as they were played. But the basketball squad will remember other things, too. They will remember the jolly times they had going to the games, jolting along in the bus, shouting (did someone say singing?) at the top of their lungs, usually led by "Singing Master Willie" who was later in the season helped by "Little Flash." Two of the favorite tunes were "Old Time Religion" and something about the wheels on a Ford. Of course, they knew others. Oh, what a scramble to sit next to Carl. That fellow never forgot a story! He really had a collection.

"Where's Bun? Oh, he's ringing the buzzer again. Say, Bun, the driver's getting sore." Bunn replies, "Let Alcatraz out here."

On one trip the bus was decorated with a long streamer whipping along behind.

Get that ball!

A scramble for the ball.

Just look at that score with a minute to go.

Jump ball.

What a night! What a night! T'was the night everyone had a private dressing room. Ask some of the boys what a time they had.

It seemed quite evident that one coach in the conference did not know how to run the electric clock. Everyone got a laugh at the frequent toots of the horn. Said this coach, "Never mind, boys, it's only me again."

He was at it again, that man called "Tub", educating the boys in the art of card playing.

Going home again, each one was replaying the game in his mind. Each told the other the highlights of the game, as they saw them. (All the highlights of the evening are not on the playing floor.)

Near the end of the season you don't see that large group in the front of the mirror combing their hair. I wonder why.

When we grow old, we'll think
Of memories we've had,
And looking back on High School days
Will always make us glad.

TRACK

The 1937 track season saw Dave Simpson as the Tigers' one man track team. Dave was featured in the broad jump, 220 and 100 yard dashes and last but not least he ran as anchor man on the relay team which finished near the top in all its races. Dave, by jumping over 20 feet in the broad jump, now holds the record in this district.

"Bus" Hyten and Mike Bekeske were Edwardsville's crack dash men. They ran on the relay team and in the other various sprints.

Joe Jaros could have been called the man in the sky for he always pushed himself in the air to clear the cross bar in the pole jumping pit. He also hurled the javelin some 160 feet.

Leo Kaufman and Vincent Meek were the strong men on the team. Leo was the shot put man and also a sprinter, while Vincent threw the discus and ran the half mile.

Last but not least we find Ralph Hackney and Gene Wehling. Ralph was the pepper box of the team. He was always doing something and when the finish of the 440 came around, you usually saw him among the leaders. Gene, a sprint man, ran in dashes and also on the relay team.

TWISTING AND SWINGING

This year's wrestling team had two outstanding wrestlers. Herby Simons, who was captain until midyear, had the best record of no defeats out of four matches. Next came James Dippold, who took over Herby's job as captain, and was defeated only three times in ten matches. Other members were Roy Jenkins, Wilbert Rozum, and Logan Bayer.

The 1937 E. H. S. tennis team "racketed" its way to a conference championship with Simpson leading the way by annexing the singles championship and Winters and Merkle blazed their way through both conference and district tournaments, losing only in the semifinals of the state tournaments. Tennis on the E. H. S. courts in '37 saw more aspirants than in previous years, so tennis in Edwardsville has a bright outlook in the future years.

Candy was sold at the games to further activities during the year. Some new archery equipment was purchased and a new volleyball was obtained for the girls' use.

Lois Harrell and Edna Rotter were sent to Camp Talahi at Alton.

Membership and participation in sports were reduced by compulsory physical education and the new program.

Miss Helen Smetana directed the sports for Play Day.

We don't know just what it is that interests them, the girls or the games they play. Be that as it may, the girls of E. H. S. have done very well in a girl's way. They play only intramural competition, which has been very keen this year.

In some sports, tournaments were run off while others were merely played for the pleasure. All games were played after school, but hikes are sometimes taken on Saturdays. The captains or presidents were elected and did the real managing. At the close of the season, "winner treat loser" dinners, parties, and other get-to-gethers were held. All we can say is, "Keep it up, girls, and you may amount to something someday; who knows?" ("Who wrote this?" quote girls.)

mooning after Nurse Bernadine Spanholtz. He has quite a rival in the person of Gendarme Kenny Ingram. Elinor Morrison and Marcel Soehlke are sharing one of those little attic garrets; the former is pursuing art and the latter nothing in particular. Around the Parisian Gay Spots we find the members of the "Perennial Bachelors Club" giving the young girls a thrill. They are Frank Hamlin, Ed Barnett, Roy Jenkins, Jim Mindrup, Dick Nash, and Waldemar Jahn under the able guidance of George Smith. In opposition to this club and planning to break it up is a gang of girls led by Idabelle Nischwitz. These members are Jeanne Schneider, Vera Miller, Eileen Harmening, and Annamae Piper.

In Spain we find that Evelyn Volz, Leota Wagner, Iona Wood, Ethel Woodward, Sylvia Zika, and Bessie Lebeda are having a drive demanding better treatment for the poor bulls. Anytime, anywhere in the Alps you can hear Virginia Baird and Del Meyer yodeling.

Down in Italy we find that Irene Eilers and Eleanor Dunstedter relieve each other being yes-man to Mussolini. We hear rumors that Berniece Drexilius and Elizabeth Francesconi have similar positions in Germany. Leola Klaustermeier and Belva Howerton are running, very successfully, a restaurant where nothing but spaghetti is served. Every 15 minutes Homer Marti comes out and gives demonstrations in eating this dish so people don't get discouraged and fail to come back. Betty Huelskamp and Kelly Krumeich come every night to see who can eat the most. At present Betty is ahead by two yards and one inch. In Venice, Elvin Henke has just perfected a mechanical gondolier, who, when you drop a nickel in his back pocket, will sing any song you prefer. Elvin also has a group of girls that can be rented along with the gondolas to serenade the passengers. They are Anita Cullens, Dorothy Joseph, Vivian Joseph, Betty Rhoads, and Irmgarde Rothe.

Gerry Schmidt and Bernadine Hentz have opened up a cafe which caters to the French Foreign Legion. Their best patrons are Billy Moore and Ray Neuenschwander, who during a lapse of memory, signed some one's else name to a check, and had to leave the U. S., thus joining the Legion. Bob Stullken and Jack West have just gone bankrupt. Their chain of filling stations across the Sahara Desert has failed. In the jungles Keturah Stelzriede and Ruth Frances Weidner have set up an ideal government for the natives. Now they have bank night three times a week. The co-dictators have sent for Hazel Fahnestock to teach the natives the "big cherry." Betty Thackston and her minstrel show are touring Africa for the enlightenment of the natives. Her interlocutor is John Harrison. Leo Mateyka and Coletta Ukena have found a diamond as big as their fists in their mine and are going to retire.

Dorothy Meyer and Helen Behrendt were traveling in Arabia and got lost. Now they are in the harum of Sheik Elmer Schumacher. He has Norris Ambeuhl and Elton Miller scouring the desert with caravans looking for likely victims. The harem already includes Gladys Herder and Lucille Stolte.

Alvin Scheibal is still trying to ballyhoo people. He is trying to convince the people of India that what they need is a Supreme Court. Tom Trares and his

WE DISCUSS GIRLS' PROBLEMS

The Hi-Tri of E. H. S. is an organization for all high school girls. The meetings are held twice a month during the 20 minute period.

If one would drop in for a group discussion, he might hear the Freshies discussing "How to Act on a Date," or the Sophs worrying over "How to Overcome Our Awkward Age." They do give a little time to discussing good manners and other problems of girls as well.

One might hear the Junior group discussing "Steady Company" or the Seniors planning "How to Get a Husband." These topics as well as many others are discussed at the meetings.

The big event sponsored by the Hi-Tri is the Girls' Kid Party which is usually held in February. All girls enjoy going back to their childhood days once in a while.

The purpose of the Science Club is to maintain and create a scientific viewpoint of the many incidents that are common in our every day lives. Last May, for the first time, the Science Club entered five projects in the Junior Academy of Science, and in each of these received an award. Individual and group projects are given awards in the fields of Astronomy, Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Geology. At present, work in the labs is being directed toward the next Academy awards. It is these awards and also the scientific values each member acquires that enables the Science Club to have a definite goal for which to strive.

The Stamp Club is an organization for the study of geography, history, and biography through the study of stamps. It was organized in February, 1934, and each year has found it growing in interest and in members. The issue of commemorative stamps each year has enabled even the younger members to increase their collection of U. S. stamps and foreign stamps. Auctions are held once each month, thus enabling those who have duplicates to help the beginners to increase their collection at little cost. The Spanish stamps and the Spanish Civil War and Chinese and Japanese stamps and the situation in China have been studied this year.

If you chanced to hear a lot of noise coming from the school, it was probably only the weekly meeting of the Cheer Club. The club was exceedingly successful this year, boasting of a membership of about five hundred students. Each week the program committee arrange entertainment from "melerdramers" to serious pageants.

The outstanding event of the year was undoubtedly the Football Dance. Amidst a maze of pomp and glory we crowned our football queen.

Then, not to forget the club's object, the cheer leaders led yells, giving our basketball and football boys that good old spirit of "win or die."

The members of the Hi-Y have their hands full trying to break in the new Freshmen. It is quite a task making little gentlemen out of them, but in the end they always succeed. The older members carry on the serious part of the club, planning new and bigger things for the Hi-Y to conquer. They are very proud of the fact that this year our president, Dick Nash, was elected to preside at the Hi-Y Conference and Clifton Losch at the Older Boys' Conference.

Meetings of the club are held after school hours, usually in the evenings, so that business matters and discussions may be more thorough and members receive more benefit from them.

WE UNDERSTAND BUSINESS

This organization proves itself to be very beneficial to students in the commercial field. Here the girl or boy who plans to become a secretary or stenographer can get many helpful hints on applying for positions and on office routine. Talks are often given by people experienced in the business world. All of the meetings are not devoted to serious thought. Plays satirizing proper business procedure are most entertaining and often there are "eats." Meetings are held once a week and have been unusually successful this year.

It must be the belief of the school authorities that "one can sing better on an empty stomach" as the present Glee Club period is the third instead of the after-dinner hour, the sixth. This also is to prevent the rest of the school from developing indigestion from hearing the discords that do happen ever so often to float from 303. Most of the songs sung are a higher class of music, but the Glee Clubs can "swing it" if necessary.

The girls meet on Tuesday and Thursday while the deeper throated masculine species meet on Monday and Wednesday. Both groups join harmoniously on Friday in the gym.

HIC HAEC HOC

The Latin Club, organized in December of 1936, is primarily to enlarge the students knowledge and interest in this classical subject. At the club meetings discussions are held for which class time does not permit. For the serious part of the meetings talks are given on Roman Gods, emperors, legends, myths, festivals, and so forth. In the line of entertainment, charades (Latin words being enacted) is the favorite. Latin songs are also sung. On special occasions parties are held instead of the regular meetings.

This speech making business seems to have its effect on some people. Someday, who knows, some person in our midst may be a great orator. It happens that there are a few members who are rather bashful and the officers have had a hard time trying to persuade them to get up in front of an audience and speak. The club has done quite well by putting on several plays, including an outstanding Christmas program. In order to promote skill in public speaking and public reading and develop a more general interest in these accomplishments throughout the student body of this high, this organization was established.

Oh! Hello!

PARLEZ-VOUS FRANCAIS?

December had rolled around before the French Club was organized this year. The first official act of the Club was to revise the Constitution. The law requiring members to speak French entirely and penalizing all who spoke English (one cent per word) was voted out. Song books were made by the members, containing all the well-known French ballads. Studies of Dumas-pere, Dumasfils, Moliere, and other outstanding Frenchmen were made and French games played. "Renversez le panier des fruits" (upset the fruit basket, to you) is the universal favorite.

CONTACT!

This club was organized only this year but already many boys have found interest in it. Note: So far this is strictly a boys' club although girls may join if they so desire. The purpose of it is to develop in the student an appreciation of aviation and aeronautics. Research is made to find the opportunities in aeronautical engineering offered to young men and the education necessary to train pilots. The boys have built many small replicas of airplanes and are perfecting a six foot plane with a gasoline engine.

Mr. Weber

At first this time to start band seemed to many members to be impossible. After several weeks, though, with the help of mothers, alarm clocks, and so forth, every one was in his chair ready to start at the designated time. The band played at some of the football and basketball games. These were all well attended because of a two-hour make-up penalty. The first official concert was February 13.

In the social world the band was not lacking. Everyone had a grand time at treasure hunts, scavenger hunts, and parties. Along with good musicians the band also had very good eaters.

The band won first place in the district contest in Greenville. This entitles them to entry into the state contest on April 30.

ORCHESTRAS AND ENSEMBLE

This year, for the first time, we have two school orchestras. The first is the concert orchestra under the direction of Mr. Fred Weber. This orchestra meets the sixth period during the week and attracts those who play instruments not suited to band work. The second orchestra is for the modern boy and girl interested in "swing". Any student is eligible for this "Tiger Swing Band" directed by Johnny Harrison. The concert orchestra accompanied the operetta, "Sunbonnet Sue," and the swing band played for assemblies, basketball games, and matinee dances.

In addition to this work, various band members are planning to enter the solo contest held at Greenville on April 2. Some will enter as soloists and others as members of ensembles. Those who place in first division go to compete in the State contest. Good luck, kids!

They were entered in the ensemble and solo contest.

WE CAN'T TAKE IT WITH US

We, the Senior Class, in this year, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-eight Anno Domini, being yet of sound mind and body, and about to make our exit through the stately portals of E. H. S. for the last and final time, do will, bequeath, and otherwise leave such possessions as we do own to the underwritten students and faculty, on condition that they be used wisely and well.

I, Frances Ambrozat, leave my dignified manner to Evelyn West.
I, Norris Ambuehl, leave for Alhambra.
I, Virginia Baird, leave my office cares to some deserving Junior.
I, Ed Barnett, leave my towering height to Mr. Wilson.
I, Marian Barnett, leave to succeed Grace Moore.
I, Irma Bartels, leave Bizzani heart-broken.
I, Selma Bartels, leave my Latin translations to Evelyn Fischer.
I, Vera Bayer, leave my way with the men to Virginia Lee.
I, Caroline Bauer, leave to get married.
I, Helen Behrendt, leave for Collinsville.
I, Mary Bender, leave to meet Mickey.
I, Esther Bettman, leave for home in the Wells coupe.
I, Charles Biarkis, leave my bashful manner to Wayne Cox.
I, Albert Bishop, leave to join the House of David.
I, James Brown, leave for Washington to balance the budget.
I, Robert Buchanan, leave my way with the women to J. Nemnich.
I, Kathryn Cragg, leave to catch the next bus to Glen.
I, Anita Cullens, leave to take over Winchell's Column.
I, Dorothy Cummins, leave to pull the wool over any man's eyes.
I, Wilbur Davis, leave four years of wasted life behind me.
I, George Dooley, leave E. H. S. once and for all.
I, Loren Dotray, leave my manly stride to Willis Augsburger.
I, Bernice Drexelius, bequeath my calm serenity to Charlotte Kovarik.
I, Eleanor Dunstedter, leave my queenly manner to Pat Giese.
I, Irene Eilers, leave my secret reducing formula to Betty Barnett.
I, Charles Enos, leave my ability for skipping school to "Bugs" Rogers.
I, Kathryn Fagg, bequeath my date-book to some lucky gal.
I, Hazel Fahnestock, leave my charms to Roberta Rutz.
I, Wanda Farrar, leave to attend Joe's next dance.
I, Virginia Forshaw, leave my blond curls to Miss Davis.
I, Elizabeth Francesconi, leave my platinum blonde locks to Edna Mae Seaton.
I, George Gemoules, leave my heart-breaking ability to George Joseph.
I, Harley Gwyn, leave to become the next mayor of Worden.
I, Elsworth Hagemeier, leave my brother to carry on.
I, Frank Hamlin, leave to become a sign painter (not on buildings or street corners!)
I, Eileen Harmening, leave my sweet disposition to Ruth Mary Knowles.
I, John Harrison, leave Ellen to David and Albert.
I, Elvin Henke, leave my harmonica playing abilities to Billy Belshaw.
I. Charles Henry, leave my list of telephone numbers to the Evans boys.
I, Bernadine Hentz, leave to walk home with Penny Martindale.
I, Gladys Herder, leave with Lucille.
I, Earl Herrin, leave my graceful antics to Roy Buddhu.
I, Anna Hofeditz, leave my jolly nature to Helen Wray.
I, Iola Hommert, leave a host of true friends.
I, Frank Honchak, leave my pleasing drawl to Elna Smith.

DIRECTOR
Miss Jones

College folk really do have their troubles, especially when they get "Spring Fever." Miss Jones directed these boys and girls through their troubles—the result being a laughable, lovable comedy in three acts. There were explosions and late term papers, some fake heart attacks, and a girl reporter who tried in vain to capture the explosive manufacturer. Never-the-less all ended well with term papers finished, heart attacks cured, and most important of all no serious explosions.

Let's pick the winners.

SPOOKS' CONVENTION

Oooooooooooh! Weird sounds and sights greeted us as we entered the gym on the evening of October 30, for that was the date of our annual Halloween party. Many clever ideas were brought forth in costumes and prizes were awarded for them. Additional color was added to the party by the numerous lanterns, pumpkins, and other colorful decorations. A large number of our student body was out in full disguise.

Boots Wilhauk furnished the music for dancing after which refreshments were served.

"12-24-36 hike" and the football dance was off to a good start with a score of fun to fun. Our football team rushed down the field with one queen, fifteen maids, and their letters to add to their score. Another point was made for our side when Coach Smith was presented a gift from the football boys. The crowning of the queen added much color to the dance as she was attired in white with an orange and black robe with "E. H. S. Tigers" on the back. During the half, Boots Wilhauk furnished the music for dancing.

Lover's paradise.

We love to sing.

The mellerdrammer part of it.

SUNBONNET SUE

"Sunbonnet Sue, how I love you."

These words could be heard ringing out through the gym on the evening of December 15 when the High School Glee Clubs presented the operetta "Sunbonnet Girl." This was the exciting story of an orphan girl who, in spite of her selfish foster parents, enters a music contest sponsored by the State Federation of Music Clubs. She wins the contest and also discovers that she is heir to a valuable piece of property. Much humor is furnished by the Scroggs and the sheriff.

CAST

Girls' and Boys'
Glee Clubs

DIRECTOR

Mr. Weber

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

Short dresses, anklets, huge hair ribbons, balls, jacks, jumping ropes, swings, ring-around-the-rosey, tag.

This composed the girls' kid party, which was held in the gym on the evening of February 14. As the date was Valentine Day, the gym was decorated accordingly. Refreshments were served in paper bags representing little school lunches. The program was composed of a solo by Phyllis Hubach, a reading by Anita Cullens, and songs by the entire group.

Joe Ladd furnished the music for dancing.

"TIGER-RAG"

Another attempt was made this year by members of our Tiger Staff to publish a school newspaper. Previous publications failed because of a lack of support but so far the venture has been successful. The paper includes society, sport, comic, editorial, and feature sections. In editing this "Tiger-Rag" it was the hope of the staff to unify the student body and to discover and uncover any budding geniuses that may be hidden in our midst.

SENIOR PLAY

"The Ghost Parade" is the title of the play chosen this year by Miss Elsie Sloan, the director. Try-outs were held March 23 and 24 and the cast of 16 boys and girls went out into rehearsals immediately. The date of presentation is April 27.

The story deals with a supposedly haunted hotel left to a young girl by her deceased uncle. The plot involves a hidden treasure map, stolen bonds, and ghosts. In the cast are shown actors, members of a movie company, villains, secret service agents, and a poor mistreated darky.

The comedy parts are played by Jack West as Jonas and Ruth Weidner as Matilda, who are both inclined to be deaf but won't admit it. Rastus, the colored servant who hates to carry trunks, is played by Marvin Veesaert; Hiram, the village sheik, by Herbert Simons, and the honest Sheriff, by Alvin Scheibal. Mr. Higgenbottom, a cranky old man, is played by Earl Herrin and Absolam is done by Clifton Losch. Miss Abigal, a sweet girlish maid of forty, is played by Belva Howerton. The leading parts are in the hands of Marian Barnett as Anne Watkins, a hotel heiress, and Joyce Bardelmeier as Ted Lewis, a movie actor who has interest in Anne. Dorothy Cummins is Mamie Rose, a friend of Anne, and George Smith is Aleck Smart, another movie actor. Billie is played by Vera Bayer, and Claudia and Flo, movie actresses, are Lucille Stolte and Dorothy Joseph. Veloise Rose, as "The Pest," adds much comedy to the play.

SOLO CONTEST

About forty bandsmen made a trip to Greenville to participate in the solo and ensemble contest on April 2. The band had played and won a first division on the preceding Saturday, thus setting a very high standard for these individuals to attain. This contest differs greatly from the band contest in as much as the soloist faces the judge and audience alone and cannot depend on his fellow "tooter" to lend him any moral support.

brother John are his assistants and hand out his literature. They can't read but that's all right—Alvin and his helpers can't write. Bill Tietze and Dean Williams are trying to put on the Indian Rope trick. There is only one difficulty—they can't find a rope strong enough to hold Bill. Esther Bettman and Kathryn Cragg are traveling all over the world holding revivals and at present are trying to convert the poor misled people of Indo-China. George Gemoules and Harley Gwyn are their principal speakers.

Next comes Shanghai. The favorite place for the Marines to drop in is "Ye Old Malted Milkee Shoppee"—proprietors: James Brown and Adele Lischka, Sergeant Clifton Losch of the Marines owes such a large bill that they're planning on taking him in as a partner to save his credit. Iola Hommert and Veloise Rose are running a very profitable business. Back in the states, Hommert and Company manufactures pure silk Chinese robes, ships them to Shanghai, and Rose and Company sells them to the tourists. A very well known restaurant is the "Chop Suey House" owned and operated by Judith Wisnaski and Virginia Forshaw. Mostly Chinese come here and are quite fond of this dish, new to them.

In Hawaii we find that Buster Hyten and Leo Kaufman, famous football coaches, are deeply engrossed in the study of the native dance. They claim it's because they want to teach their team rhythm and grace—we wonder! Another outstanding football coach here on vacation is Harold Metzger. He, you know, teaches at that exclusive girls' school on the Hudson.

Back again to the dear old U. S. A. and to Hollywood. Our first glance at the signboards tells us the newly found love team, Kay Fagg and Penrose Martindale, are starring in "Love, At Last I Have Found Thee!" Chid Henry, sensational fielder for the Chattanooga Chipmunks, has turned professional and is in Hollywood preparatory to making a picture. Gerry Watson is running a dating bureau called the "Academy of Giggolettes". It consists of Gertrude Nix, Gerry Ostendorf, Eleanor Noto, Velma Rathert, and Mildred Reid.

Lester Miller, Walter Schlemer, Edward Schwager, Edward Schmidt, and Marvin Veesaert, formerly of Hollywood, have now gone into seculsion, no one knows where. It seems they suffer from unfortunate love affairs and have gone off to start all over again. Doing quite well for themselves are Harlowe Neudecker and Vera Bayer who have hung out their sign "Neudecker and Bayer—For Fixing the Hair". Here is where all the movie stars' coiffures originate.

Out in Nevada, Carl Leach and Vincent Meek are running a dude ranch. Business is so good that they are now thinking of buying some cattle. Their staff of Dudettes, under the direction of Foreman Chester Parrott, are Dorothy Ursprung, Dorothy Schmidt, LaVona Loewen, Caroline Bauer, Mary Bender, and Frances Jellen. Carl Lebeque, George Allen, and Charles Biarkis are prospecting in the mountains because they once read in a book or heard some one say "there's gold in them thar hills." Pat Schneider has already discovered a vein of gold.

Now that our trip is completed, if you were surprised or disappointed in the paths our classmates have chosen to follow, look us up when 1948 really rolls around and we'll see if our prophecy was "warm," "hot," or "cold."

butcher (Roy Spitze)? We wonder what Kate Fagg thinks of the new Jiggs-Figgs, especially Figg's Service Station. Gerry Watson and Dees like their sweets. Bender and Mickey are getting along swell too according to the latest report. A son of a doctor (B. Tietze) finds something new in Belleville.

Our Swing Band leader finds a little competition for the hand of a certain freshie. What savage—have we seen Speed Hamlin with her of late? "Buckingham," as he is known (Bob Buchanan) has lost ground in the Home of Krejci. We also have a Bishop among us who seems to belong in the House of David. Who were the twenty or so boys coming to school one morning in farmers' clothes? What happened? Don't tell me you don't know. The next day we saw Robert Taylors all over the campus.

We hear that Iola Hommert is striving to have a famed blond University of Illinois basket ball player for a brother-in-law. Frances Ambrozat's voice seems to improve on moonlight nights while riding in an automobile. What Miller's daughter (Vera, by name) almost started a riot in Public Speaking Class with her speech "'Chivalry is Dead Today"? Wonder if she was thinking of a certain red-headed boy owning a light tan car. We wonder if William Luksan will turn out to be a second Edison or just a chemist. Wonder why Hazel Fahnestock spends so much time in a certain gun-metal Chevie. Wonder where Frances Jellen got that diamond she is wearing. Matrimony is picking up with business. Rumors have it that she will be a Mrs. soon. We are going to suggest that George Schneider go to Hollywood and help Walt Disney create a new cartoon. In about ten years you can call on Dr. Dean Williams to cure any ailing that you have. People are wondering if Walter Schlemer is really as quiet as he looks, or is he a wolf in sheep's clothing? Wonder if Elton Miller will succeed his brother as the Glen Carbon bus driver. One senior girl has the jump on all girls when it comes to Love because she has it already. Isn't that so, Margaret Love? Elinor Morrison says, "I cannot tell a lie, kids; I did it all with my little camera." What boy says that he does things for good old Alma Mater, or is it Mateer? What could Joe Ladd do without Udell Mason's master drumming? It's as good as the spirit of '76 or is it 6%? What's that running down the street? Oh, that's Edwardsville's gambling devices; Keturah Stelzriede's back in town.

I'll bet the four boys in the first period bookkeeping class surely miss Miss Keough. They used to have a lot of fun in that class. The four—(George Gemoules, Robert Arthur Brave, Gilbert Hall, and last but not smallest, Bill Tietze). We hear Phyllis Hubach is quite a crooner, or would you say contralto? "Stuff" and "Things" (Frank Honchak and Kenny Ingram) seem to have a lot of fun in physics lab. Ivan Jennings has also got the idea that a wave in the hair "wows 'em". It seems as though Caroline Bauer has the start on most of us, except Mr. and Mrs. Nischwitz, or Joy Robinette. Alvin Scheibal, we hear, is going to buy Maronies. Irma Bartels seems to be in a daze every time "Chid" Henry walks past. Harley Gwyn is competing for Eddie Duchin's place in radio. We think that Leola Klaustermeier would be a second Kate Smith if only she could sing. We hear that a certain "Queen" of the school thinks that Herbie Simmons is plenty all right. Irp Rothe seems to think that she is a regular farmerette now just because she lives out of town. Marcel Soehlke thinks that she does well; she also has Well. What Senior boy believes in that old saying, "All good things come in small packages"? What about it Leo Mateyka? What Senior boy (Clifton Losch by initials) goes in a big way for

SQUINTCHELL'S COLUMN

Good evening, Mr. and Mrs. North America and all the ships at sea, let's go to press. Flash!

To Juniors:

What is this we hear about Vera Levora going around with all the little Freshmen to find out the latest gossip? Which one of our fair damsels goes around calling Mr. Weber "cute-ums"? Couldn't be Marian Wenger! What blond Junior boy is making a play for the brunette member of our "Tiger Trio?" Or is it the other way around? How about it, Bob and Clarine? What girl thinks Monday morning comes too soon after Sunday night? (A. Foster?) Who's that very brilliant Junior boy who is wasting himself on a Senior girl when a Sophomore is dying to have him? Probably Kellerman. There's a certain Junior girl who goes to Litchfield at the slightest chance to see a girl-friend—we'd believe that if the girl-friend weren't on Litchfield's basket ball team. Who's that Junior chemist that can't stand the slightest breeze on her in lab? Shirley, you're a lily. There's one and only one Junior boy who does not read out of his book in Mr. Wilson's sixth hour history. (George Cummins) Know him? What girl on our chemistry excursion to the Shell Refinery paid about as much attention to the guide as to the sights? Just ask Marge Hunt. Robert Lange, we hear, has applied for admittance into Stevens College upon graduation next year. He has received a scholarship for his grace and beauty.

SQUINTCHELL'S COLUMN

Listen Closely, Sophomores:

Alton scores again. Who has been seen riding in a gray Pontiac and frequenting the Fairy Inn? It couldn't be Dr. Fink's daughter and Lois C., or could it? Well, well, we learn that our sax swingster of the Tiger Swing Band is a "whiz" at geometry. Hi-ya, Prof. Marv? There seems to be a challenge for the longest love affair. He's a tinner's son; she's a lumberman's daughter. (Watch out, Wib and Gin, or they will equal your record.) Since the E. H. S. boys haven't given her enough of their time, Mary Lou hops in her little tan Ford and "putts" down to Granite. What Sophomore gal with "umph" is trying to hold on to a two-timer with sore feet and a gray Plymouth? (Hint, Mary had a little lamb). What newspaper editor's daughter thinks the Edwardsville boys are too crazy, so she can now be seen sharing a cell with a bleached blond from Alton? (Didn't I see her with the previously mentioned girls in the gray Pontiac? Score Alton, 3—E. H. S., 0). Some of these new Sophs are fast workers; one new girl in the class has been seen with a boy who graduated last year. Nice going, Jean D. Say, this affair of Tommy Wood and Irene Frey seems to be going along all right. You can see them in Miss Davis' doorway any noon. Ain't love grand? Do you think Charles Suchy and Virginia Lee will elope? They would make a fine couple. Who is the "hottest" trombone player to hit this side of town? His name is Dermot "Feryfiguhitze," or something like that.

SQUINTCHELL'S COLUMN

Oddities in the News:

Say, can you tell me why a certain red-headed Freshman (Hoppie) is being wooed by a Senior? The Freshman girl-Junior boy stuff is going full sway now, but that's not E. H. S. history. Wait till the Freshman boys take out the Junior girls. I surely wish some Freshman girl would quit holding up traffic at noon by arguing with Mama who's going to drive Papa's new Pontiac. (Hurst) Freshman gal they call "Toughy" is a lady (Barnett). Ask Junior Buckley. Look out for that Freshie candid camera man. He's telling Strebler how to do it. Mudge? Oh, how did you guess? When you hear "whoops" and a "swish" it's not Indians; it's only the Freshman boys racing to assembly with "Tigerette" Whitemen in the lead. Little Freshie girls shouldn't walk on stilts, even though gallant "Herrins" do come to the rescue. Hurry, hurry, was the cry of the Freshman boys at Christmas time; get a date before the older guys horn in on us. P. S. The party was held around Easter. Is it true what they say about M. Wayne? Has she really roped a Drug Store cowboy? (Billy Vogel?) Hubach, a fortune teller has told us, is going to wrap himself and a new Pontiac around a tree. Livingston will slip and fall into the ice cream at Schwartz Drug Co. one of these days. Ellen Shillato and Gregor are seen together quite often. We wonder if it's the real thing. Milton Diver, the sheik of the band, decided it is better to eat breakfast while listening to music.

TO THE PIPE SMOKERS
EDWARDSVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

He-manish. That's the word—He-manish. We dedicate this article to those He-manish individuals who boast of being able to smoke a pipe and hold their dinners down. I take my hat off to the guy that can let tobacco juice trickle down his throat and say he enjoys it. A pipe appeals to me about as much as would an overnight siesta in a patch of poison ivy. Those mugs must have a gullet of iron and I would advise the rest of you more humane students not to mix punches with them—your fist might find itself exceeding its normal size after contacting something of such great resistance.

In conclusion, let me add that I don't see how ——————————anyone can smoke a pipe and those who do—they have my good wishes that they have better luck with their constitutional activities than I did.

Looking Forward

Through the years you will have need for a friendly, helpful banking connection

Maybe to safeguard your first savings; for a checking account; to establish your business standing, or for counsel when you face financial problems

The earlier you establish this relationship the sooner you can start benefiting from it. Whatever your aim in life may be, your connection with this bank, whether your account is large or small, will be a valuable aid to your future progress

1938 CALENDAR

7. Cheer Club. Amazing talent shown in that thrilling pantomine entitled "Nell the Pet of the Prairie."
8. Football game with Alton. Rather dull. (We lost).
12. Mr. Weber entertains the Glee Club with a cornet solo entitled "Nobody's Sweetheart Now." Domestic trouble?
14. Motion picture shown in gym by the Chrysler Motor Company.
15. Matinee dance after school. Recordings furnished the music for dancing.
20. Prizes presented to winners of slogan contest. How popular those winners were after assembly with all that candy!
22. Teachers' meeting. No school.
23. No school. Football game with Madison. We won 15-6.
27. Assembly. Preview of Hallowe'en party.
28. Thrill, thrill. One of our Latin teachers had her fortune told and found out that she is to marry a CCC. Good luck, Miss G.
29. Junior class officers elected. Congratulations—Ray, Dorothy, and Edgar.
30. Annual Hallowe'en party.

NOVEMBER

5. Amateur program given by Cheer Club. Contestants were as follows: Alan Jones Herrin, Grace Moore Barnett, Nelson Eddy Moore, Jeanette MacDonald Baird, Bob Burns Scheibal, Edgar Bergan Merkle, Charlie MacCarthy Schneider, solo plus gong—Jim Dippold and others.
6. Football game at Woodriver. Score 6-6.
9. Girls' Glee Club sings at the Junior High School.
10. Junior class play "Spring Fever" presented in the gym.
11. Armistice Day. No school. Tigers defeat Collinsville 6-0. Dance in the gym.
16. Cast chosen for the operetta "Sunbonnet Girl."
17. First real operetta practice.
18. Belleville defeated Tigers 26-0.
23. Intelligence test given the students. Heaven only knows, we needed it.
24. Three of our students figure in an automobile accident. Playlet entitled "Curses What a Night" given in the gym. C. Herrin is our hero and C. Leonard our heroine.
25. Thanksgiving. Granite City defeats Tigers 16-0.
30. Movies shown in the gym by the B. and O. Railroad.

DECEMBER

2. Cheer Club to urge sale of tickets for the football game.
3. Football dance.
10. Litchfield defeats Tigers.
14. Dress rehearsal for the operetta. You should have seen all our fair lasses in sunbonnets.
15. "Sunbonnet Girl" presented in the gym. It was said to have been a "howling" success. (Personally we thought we were singing).
17. We defeat Woodriver in our first home basketball game 27-24.
18. Granite City 29—Tigers 25.
23. Christmas vacation starts. Hurrah!
28. Alumni game. Tigers were defeated. Dancing afterwards to Boots Wilhauks' orchestra.

W. Jahn: "I don't exactly know, unless it means After Dark."

Having a tender passion, Kenny Cassens took his girl some expensive flowers. "How kind of you," said Evelyn Fischer, "to bring me these lovely flowers. They are so beautiful and fresh. I think there is some dew on them yet."

"Yes," said Kenny in embarrassment, "there is, but I'm going to pay it off tomorrow."

• • •

"If you sit on a tack in the winter time, what is that the sign of?"

"I don't know."

"A quick spring."

Stranger: "Sonny, is your mother home?"

Jack Parker: "Do you think I'm beating this rug for my health?"

"You will notice," said Mr. Robinson, the chemistry teacher, as he placed his finger on a piece of mechanism and turned the handle, "that this machine is turned by a crank." He was greatly astonished by the laugh that ran around the class room.

Frankie H.: "Teacher, what's a pronoun?"

Miss Jones: "A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun."

Frankie (after deep thought): "Teacher isn't 'bicycle' a pronoun?"

Miss Jones: "Why, no, bicycle is a noun."

Frankie (jumping up): "Why, it is too. A bicycle takes the place of a car."

• • •

"I tell you I won't have this room," protested Miss Gewe to the bell boy when she was in New York. "I'm not going to pay my good money for such a small room just because I'm from a small town."

The bell boy interrupted, "Step in, Madam. This is the elevator."

JANUARY

3. School again. One of our fair teachers returns with a wedding ring.
6. It seems all important people have birthdays this week. How about that, Ed?
7. School out at 3 o'clock to see special matinee of "The Life of Emile Zola."
8. Belleville 15-Tigers 23. Everyone hurries home to doctor hoarse voices. Such an exciting game that two of our senior girls went bouncing down the terrace to land in the cinders.
11. Collinsville defeats Tigers in the most exciting game of the season. 21-23.
17. Have you heard the latest? Mr. Kinsel has turned movie director.
19. It seems that L. K. and F. H. are paying regular visits to Mr. Blodgett.
21. We were highly entertained by the Tiger Orchestra. All credit goes to our able band director—Mr. Weber.
24. Rain, rain, rain. Everyone getting the blues. Anyway isn't this exam week?
25. What's the matter, Bill, were the steps slippery?
27. EXAMS.

FEBRUARY

1. School begins again. Oh dear! Do we really have to look at those report cards?
3. It seems that four of our Senior co-eds entertained with a song and dance, "The Dipsy Doodle", all the way up town after school.
4. Basketball game with Alton.
8. Collinsville beats us after a hard fight. Oh, well, we can take it.
9. Mr. Kinsel turns director and makes a movie for the P. T. A. Several of our high school lads and lassies composed the cast.
10. Basketball game with Madison.
14. Girls kid party. Some of the sights were unbelievable. Can you imagine some of our dignified lasses jumping rope?
22. Game with Litchfield to make money for sound system. Two well known girls teams (Buddy Kapp-Springfield and Stockham-Post-St. Louis) played as an added attraction.
25. To the tune of "Swing and Sway the Tiger Way" every one enjoyed the matinee dance in the gym.

MARCH

2. Tournament at Highland. We defeated New Baden—now we try our hand at Woodriver.
4. Woodriver defeated us tonight after a close game. That's all right, boys, you played a good game anyway.
8. Judge Bale from Ohio spoke to the assembly on topics of interest to all young people. We really liked him.
9. Several boys (Seniors) got a vacation from school. That is, just long enough to go home and change the overalls.
10. Today our handsome Senior boys had on their best bibs and tuckers plus flowers in their button holes.
16. Chevrolet Company gave a movie in the gym. Believe me, we really went for "One Bad Knight."
17. Heeney (the magician) thrilled quite a large crowd with his numerous tricks—especially the woman who floated through the air.

St. Peter: "From where did you come?"
Freshman: "Edwardsville High School."
St. Peter: "Did you buy a Tiger?"
Freshman: "No—no—no."
St. Peter: "Elevator down, two doors to the right."

• • •

Mr. Love: "You're so dumb you couldn't be called a ham."
Geo. Schneider: "Why not?"
Mr. Love: "Why, a ham can be cured!"

Colored Captain: "What are you itching, Sam?"
Sam: "Arithmetic bugs."
C. C.: "What are they?"
Sam: "Cooties."
C. C.: "Why do you call them Arithmetic bugs?"
Sam: "Well, they add to my misery, subtract from my pleasures, and multiply like the dickens."

• • •

Mother: "Don't ask so many questions, son. Don't you know curiosity killed the cat?"
Dick Nash: "What did the cat ask?"

Marian Barnett(on date): "I have seen seventeen summers."
Earl Herrin: "And how long were you blind?"

• • •

Mr. Kinsel: "On the right hand you have the continent of Asia. What have you on your left hand?"
Roy Buddhu: "I can't help it, but I have a wart."

• • •

Mr. Love: "How old are you, Jack?"
J. Whiteman: "I'm at the awkward age."
Mr. Love: "What age is that?"
J. W.: "I'm to old to cry and too young to cuss."

• • •

22. Assembly to open the Tiger sales. Gee! Do we ever know how to work that sound system.
23. The horror of those report cards were forgotten when we were entertained by those three musical representatives from Millikin.
25. District band contest begins.
26. Who said our band couldn't bring home the bacon?
31. Assembly. We were entertained by contest solos.

APRIL

1. Hooray! No school. Teacher's meeting.
4. Vocational interest groups meet.
8. Physical Education exhibit. My! oh! my! do we ever have the Eleanor Powells.
9. Band party in the gym to celebrate their victory.
12. Greenville college quartet entertains in the gym.
13. Public speaking classes present a one act play in the gym. Such talent!
15. No school.

27. "The Ghost Parade" (the Senior play) thrilled and chilled a large audience.
28. Band plays in the gym for assembly.
29. You missed being a April Fool by 28 days—what about it Elvin?

MAY

2. Report cards. Nice way to start out the month! Or is it?
13. Flunk slips are due. And this is the 13th too.
14. District track meet.
20. State track meet.
28. Junior-Senior Banquet.

JUNE

3. Class day. You should see all our Seniors arrayed in their new suits and dresses. I'll bet the price tags weren't off yet.
5. Baccalaureate services. Well, Seniors, it looks as if our old school days are about over. It's been fun, hasn't it?
8. Semester grades due.
9. School picnic.
10. Commencement.

SENIOR SLAMS

brunettes? What Senior girl goes in for blond sax players? (Maybe it's because her last name sounds so much like harmony). We hear rumors that Bill Moore is going into the barber business when he graduates, specializing in the Alcatraz cut. What blond Senior girl (Gerry Ostendorf) is having trouble in keeping her better half from leading a gambler's life? Who do you want? Veloise Rose. Just a minute and I'll ask Mr. Wilson. Here's to inform Vern Sickbert that Slim Summerville needs a new stand-in. We hear that Belva Howerton is running Miss Voss a close race for her position as High School secretary. We are wondering if John Merkel has been ill and has to drink a lot of milk, maybe that is why he spends so much time at Rohrkaste's Dairy.

Mrs. Kinsel: "A little bird told me you are going to give me a diamond bracelet for my birthday."
Mr. Kinsel: "It must have been a little cuckoo"

• • •

Mr. Gouza: "When water becomes ice, what is the greatest change that takes place?"
M. Frampton: "The change in price."
